- a) Carmel Middle School Invasives Day recap- Kim Gauen
  - i) Kim attended their science fair type event dedicated to invasive species. They have scientists attend and people rotate around the kid's projects and talk to the students about their work (6th graders). The kid's id an invasive species and why it is an issue and promote "solutions" to the problem. Attendees talk to the kids about the solutions they promote and their presentation skills. - c) Invasive species trade in program update and grant application 2022
  - i) The promotions were out. Claire ordered ~400 seedlings from the state tree nursery for a tree giveaway or swap. We can potentially give these away to other parks departments and we can run a county wide swap seedling program. CCPR has their own ordered as well. Idea: develop a tag or brochure (maybe Duke can pay?). Having more options (mature species size) should help.
- d) 2022 Meeting schedule – Claire presented the 2022 meeting schedule. It is all subject to change but we are going with general meetings every other month. We're sticking to 12 pm because, at this point, we are not getting any additional attendees at the 6pm timeslot. Meetings will be in person and an online offering and subject to change in response to covid.
- e) Boot Brush Program Update - All seven are in the ground! Claire is using some leftover program funds to purchase up to 13 more before the end of the year.
- f) 2022 Goal Setting Update – both committees are working on goals. Look for emails with items to review and comment on. In January we will meet to fine tune and combine.

6) Technical Committee Update

- a) Control/phenology calendar update – Kim is continuing to collect data and update the sheet. The issue will become how to display the data. ID when they are most conspicuous, most susceptible to treatment, and most comfortable/safest to treat. Target audience is land managers or people trying to time their control efforts. This could be useful for the education side as well (social media, etc.).
